

AITKEN HONOURED BY NBR

The National Business Review - 26 Feb 1999

Judith Aitken, The National Business Review New Zealander of the Year, was honoured by the paper this week at a ceremony aboard MV Liberty in Wellington.

Ms Aitken, chief review officer with the Education Review Office, received a certificate marking her Waitangi Day honour, from NBR publisher Barry Colman. She is NBR's eighth New Zealander of the year.

The previous winners were: industrialist Hugh Fletcher (for 1997), All Blacks rugby coach John Hart (1996), lawyer Grant Cameron (1995), National Bank chief executive Sir John Anderson (1994), Foreign Affairs and Trade secretary Richard Nottage (1993), Maori leader Sir Tipene O'Regan (1992) and businessman Charles Bidwill (1991).